Course application

An agent can flatten a ritual into a comparable SKU or misstate its claims. Human explanation and reviewed facts support discovery through the existing store.

One priority journey

Encounter	Practitioner demonstration or a partner-agreed QR invitation.
Choose	Optional discovery flow, explanation and one feasible ritual step.
Continue	Existing Shopify checkout and optional guidance after purchase.
Return	Voluntary practice check-in and a relevant next decision.

Explainable personalisation

Customer interaction

Declared need and available time

One starting step with a reason

Visible price and direct browsing

Design and AI boundaries

Inspectable rules first

Reviewed facts and optional dosha education

No email gate or health diagnosis

Practitioner social/live education

Positioning	Informed ritual practice, with cultural context explained accessibly.
Merchandising	A starter step, optional fuller routine and product-free practice.
Pricing	Transparent total cost. Promotion decisions follow contribution.
Experience	Human demonstration, useful guidance and voluntary continuation.

A new metric for ritual continuation

Ritual Continuation Rate

Eligible respondents meeting agreed practice threshold
÷ Eligible responding recipients at day 21

Always alongside

Response coverage and counts
Contribution after acquisition
Matured 90-day second purchase

Pilot economics and decision gates

Evidence before a live pilot

Test task comprehension

Reconcile orders, costs and spending

Agree control, duration and budget

Decision to continue

Incremental contribution covers costs

Customer understanding holds

Workload and complaints stay acceptable

Recommendation and next decision

Immediate	Journey audit, data reconciliation and a local discovery prototype.
Small pilot	One reviewed campaign with an owner, budget and evaluation plan.
Longer term	Knowledge assets and practitioner workflows after evidence.
Excluded for now	Store rebuild adds scope. AR/VR and voice need a separate value test.
